CD Operation Alert To Commence This Afternoon

Over 300 Hancock county civil defense volunteers will be activated during the nationwide Operation Alert, beginning at 12:45 this afternoon and lasting for one week.

The public will not take part during alert week except to cooperate from time to time in local projects, Ken Whitfield, local CD director said.

The first 36 hours of the exercise will be devoted almost entirely to the immediate problems, decisions and actions required in local areas. A major one for Hancock county is adding thousands of evacuees from New Orleans in crossing the Bay of St. Louis to Gulfport and Pearl River at Pearlport.

Hancock County's CD unit will concentrate on the support of a three-target area, New Orleans, Mobile and Columbus.

At 2:10 this afternoon, radio and television stations throughout the nation will cease operation for 15 minutes, while designated radio stations will operate on 640 and 1240 kilocycles, in a nation-wide Comelrad test.

The fallout pattern from 76 target cities, to be hit by 125 mythical nuclear bombs, will be checked throughout the nation, including the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Three alerts will be given today: the red, yellow, and white.

Hancock county's civil defense units will have the use of seven radio systems, the Mississippi Highway Patrol, Whitfield's emergency ambulance station, Hancock county sheriff's office, Mississippi Power Company, Bay St. Louis police fire department and the R. E. A.

George Stevenson is assistant director of Hancock county civil defense.

Among the 300 citizens of the area that will be activated during the week include the Security Section—Ed. Arceneaux, City of Bay St. Louis; Garfield Ladner, Waveland; Sam Whitfield and Howard Simmons, county wide.

Lucien Kidd will head the 75-man police service, Lamar Otis' the 40-man plant-bridge group and Earl Raymond captains the 75-man fire team.

Roger Heitzmann is head of the Warden service, and Octave Delph the Mutual Aid.

Randolph Bourgeois is in charge of river patrol and Ben Hille Sr., will handle the Gulf patrol.

Medical and Health section including emergency treatment, will be handled by Drs. Wascome, Quigley and McFarland, while medical care will be handled by Drs. Eldridge, Smith and Shipp. Dr. Shipp, Wayne Allison & Mrs. Ezeldia Ling will direct health department inspection and quarantine. Vaccinations also will be handled by Dr. Shipp.

Drugs will be handled by J. C. Roland Sr., Laurent Dickson and Rene DeMontuzin Jr. and Esther Oeschmann.

Coordinators for the CD and Red Cross will be George Stevenson and John McDonald.

Civilian Aid section will be directed by Ted Rofin for Bay St. Louis and to the county.

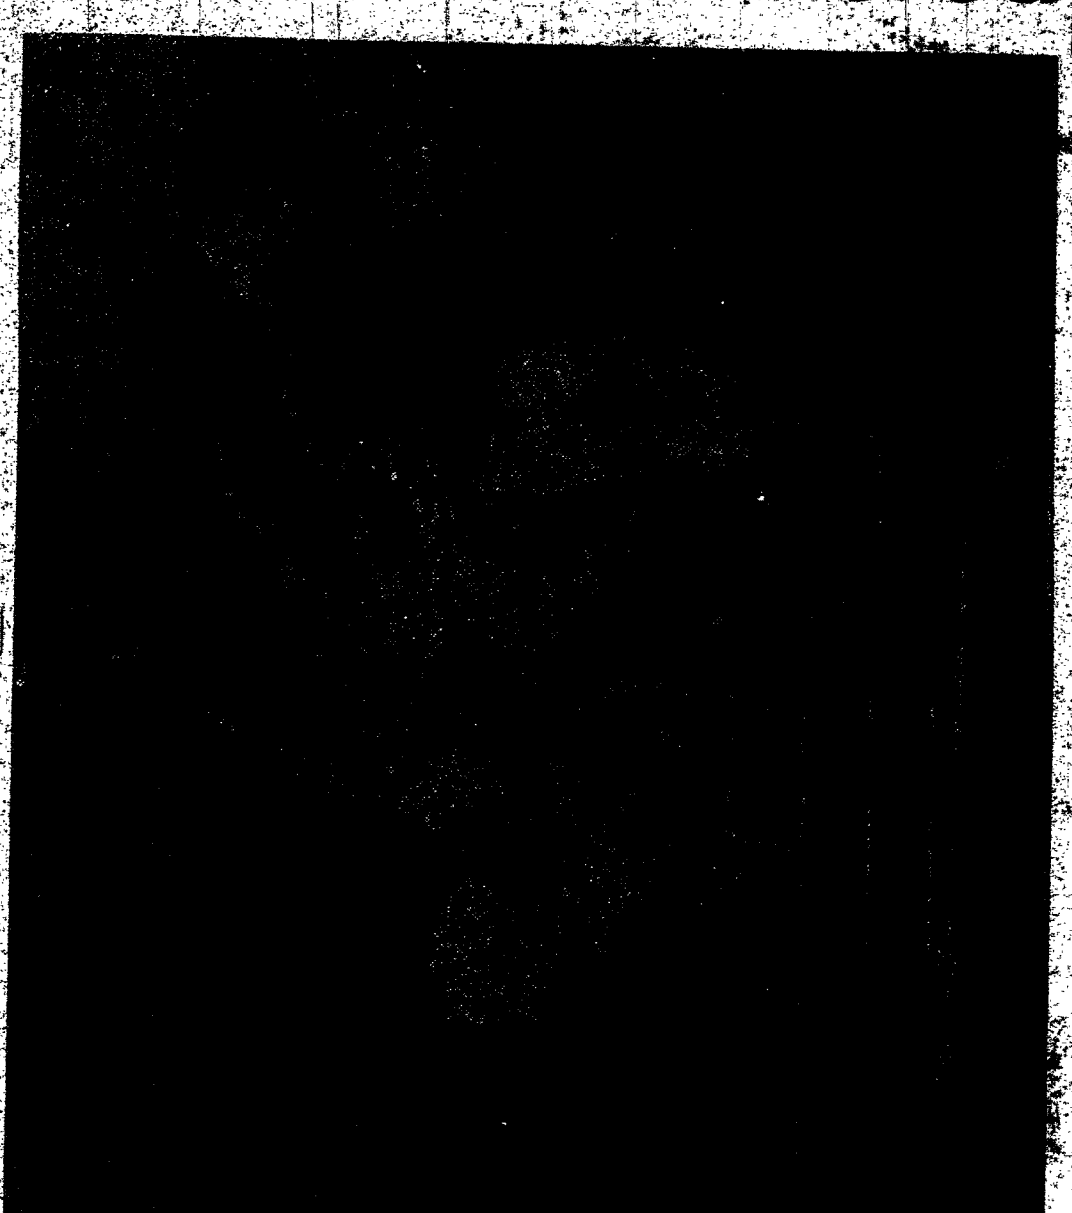

Personal care will be under the supervision of Dave McDonald, food; George Heitzmann, housing; and Dr. B. L. Ramsey, clothing.

Land rescue and life saving will be handled by Lucien Gex, while Roy Baxter and Jack Seuzeneau will be in charge of air rescue and Charles Breath in water rescuing.

Salvage corps will be headed by Lathan Gariga and Alvah Ruhl. Heavy equipment will be handled by Walter Gex Jr., Emilio Cue and Alvin Genn.

Howard Adams will be Chief of ambulance Corp., using station wagons and half ton trucks.

Dr. Smith Is Honored

DR. ALVAH P. SMITH, right, is shown receiving a bronze plaque from Reverend Schyler Batson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis.

In a Sunday night service, the First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis presented a bronze plaque to Dr. Alvah P. Smith in recognition of fifty years' service as a Christian physician.

The Reverend Schyler Batson, pastor of the church, made the presentation. In speaking of Dr. Smith's service to the community and to humanity, the Rev. Mr. Batson likened him to Luke, the first Christian physician. Recalling that again and again Paul in his letters mentioned that all had left him but Luke—"only Luke is with me"—Rev. Mr. Batson pointed out that the true physician is faithful throughout life and even to the end, reminding the congregation that usually the doctor's face was the last a man saw in the world. He stressed, too, that the power of a Christian physician was almost unlimited because he worked with God; and later in a short prayer of thanksgiving for the many blessings of the community, the minister expressed the general regard for Dr. Smith when he said, quite simply: "We thank thee, God, for him."

Representatives of many faiths were among those attending the recognition service for the doctor, and all of them were touched by his sincere humility as he spoke to the congregation when accepting the token of their regard.

At the beginning of the service, the choir, under the direction of Mr. Curtis Burge of Gulfport, sang the hymn, "The Great Physician." And at the end of the service the congregation filed down the aisle to the front of the church where they shook hands with the doctor and his wife.

Many out of town friends and relatives were present, and the doctor's colleagues in the medical profession were represented by Drs. Charles Wascome, Wesley McFarland, C. M. Shipp and James Evans.

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre has announced that its their play of the season, "Belvedere," by Gwen Davenport, is in production under the direction of Dr. John Hubbard.

The play has been tentatively scheduled for the latter part of August.

An Open Letter To John A. Egloff

MR. JOHN A. EGLOFF
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

We see you have written us a letter in another newspaper. We received this same letter, but for some strange reason we did not receive it after we were on the press. I hope to publish it.

You refer to an editorial appearing in the SEA COAST ECHO of July 6th, in which an attack was made against a group who, according to information, was grossly misleading the public on the City Bond issue to HAVE CERTAIN DIRT STREETS in our city. No individuals were named in the editorial, but it seems that by your letter to us that the "shoe must be pitching." If you are guilty, then the editorial was meant for you.

We are proud that you are a lifelong citizen of the Bay. The SEA COAST ECHO has likewise been a "citizen" of this community for about the same period, if not longer than you. It has been known to TAKE A STAND for the better things for its community for that period of time, too. Some papers just exist and take no stand on anything or any issue. They are classified and weekly advertising sheets. Any printer can serve that purpose.

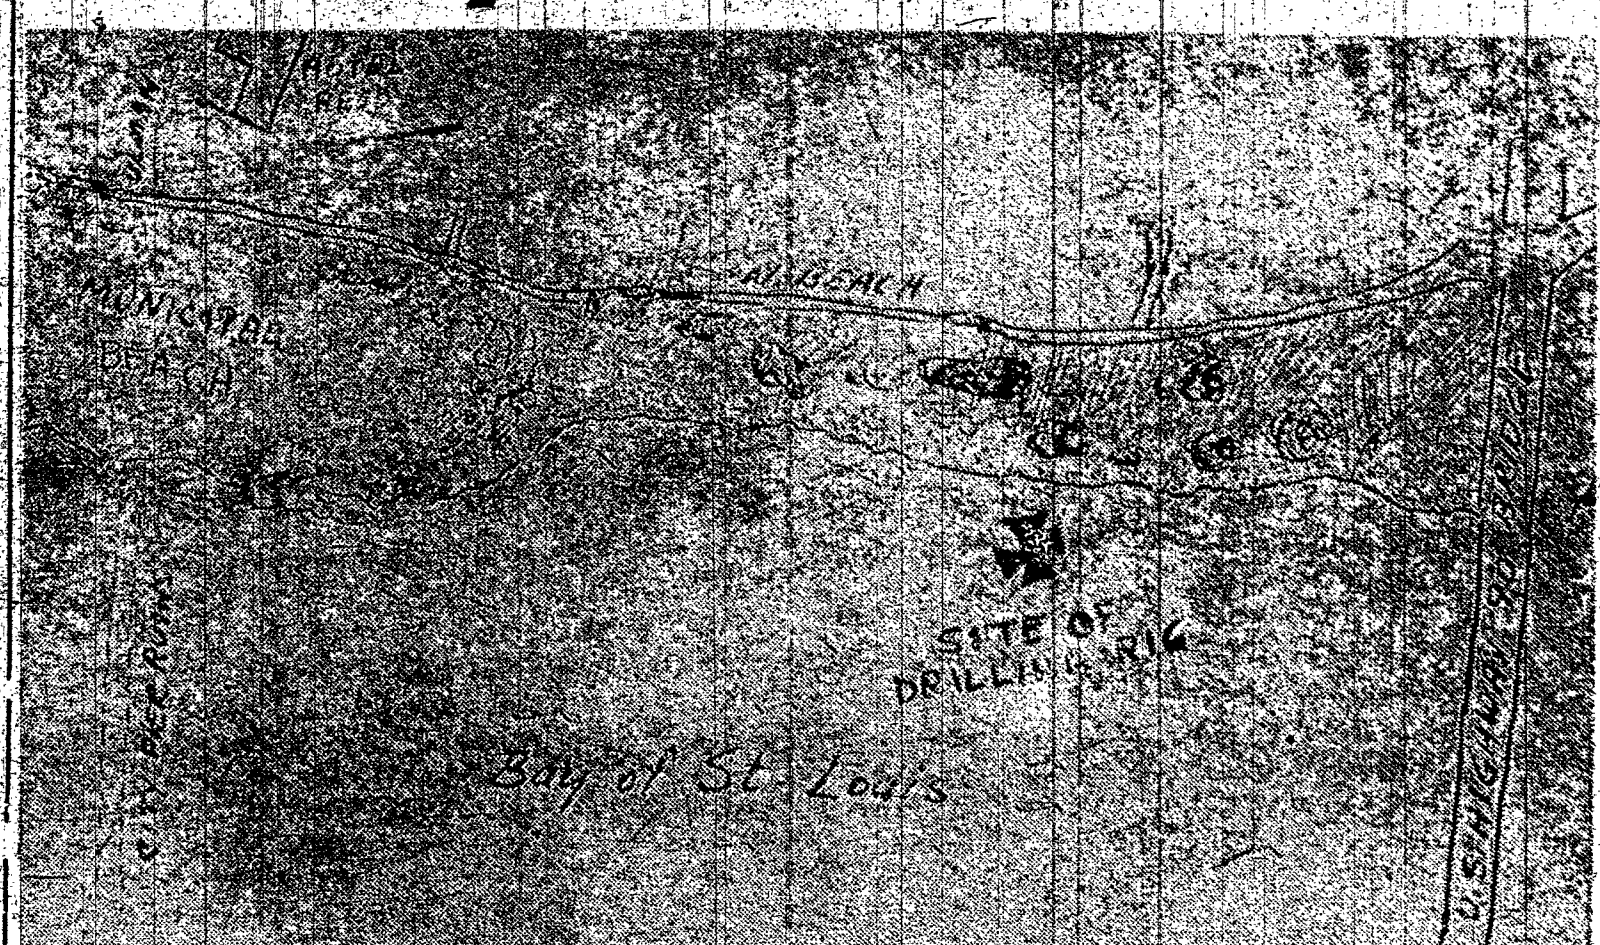

We note in your troubling letter that you say very little about the City Improvement Bond issue, and the remarks made appear to be very misleading. Why don't you check the RECORDS at the City Hall, Mr. Egloff, and there you will find the engineer's plans, reports, estimates, type of construction, etc. included in this issue and the other issue to which you refer. The Commission, in its efforts to correctly inform the public, gave out the information and even ads on the proposed bond issue and presented in detail the work to be done and how the bonds would be paid—without additional taxes! But apparently you are still confused. However, if you really WANT to be enlightened, the City Commission will be glad to go into SPECIAL DETAIL with you. In fact we are told by the City Commission that you appeared before them and requested them to include in their program the hard surfacing of an unused street, or alley, known as "chinch alley" which adjoins the Egloff property on corner of Hancock and Sycamore Sts., and when the City Fathers refused, you went away very unhappy. Is this true, Mr. Egloff?

You refer at length to your record as Sheriff. Looks as though you are leading with your chin! Yes, you do have the distinction of being sheriff twice. But what puzzles us is how you can afford to retire for 4 years in between terms, and lend out money in the meantime! Calculations have shown that the most a sheriff in Hancock County could legally net per year would be from $6,000 to $9,000.

We agree that you "permitted" friends and foe to continue business operations without discrimination, as stated by you. We sincerely believe that you did not have a single "enemy" or "foe" operating, particularly on U. S. Highway 90, and that you did everything in your power to "protect" them. In fact, while you were sheriff, Hancock County received more National and State publicity than at any time during its history. But, UNFORTUNATELY, it was all BAD! The "PINES" (of Pearlport) and the "PINES" (nearby), the razzle-dazzle, and the "skin" games flourished. The Attorney General of the State and the Governor of the State received uncomplimentary mail by the baskets full. The Sheriff (you) was asked publicly, and we understand privately, to do something about it. You did nothing to "discriminate" the good from the bad. And speaking of your failing to "discriminate," have you forgotten about your "discrimination" when the slot machine fight was on during your first term, and your deputies raided one whiskey establishment on the highway and one establishment back of town because they wanted to own their own slot machines?

J. W. Hughes to Drill For Oil In Bay Just South of Bridge

By CHRISTOPHER BEIL

J. Willis Hughes will begin construction mid-August of a 120 x 120-foot oil rig 100 feet offshore in the Bay of St. Louis, approximately off "Breath's Lane, 1/4 mile south of Hwy. 90. The off-shore rig, third in Mississippi, will be between six and eight feet above water level, and, with a crew of fifteen, will be worked around the clock for 45-50 days.

An 11,000 foot test is slated, with the bottom hole approximately 1,600 feet east of the surface location.

Hughes told the Sea Coast Echo that every possible effort will be made to minimize any inconvenience to the public.

"We hope we can find a little oil, so everybody down here can participate in it," he added.

Hughes said a 11,000-foot test, same depth as the Cuevas producing well in Ansley field, should test the present producing zone.

Two other offshore wells were drilled in the Mississippi sound, Gulf and Melven drilled off Point Clear, near the Mississippi-Louisiana line, and Floto Mike Benedum drilled off Horn Island, south of Biloxi.

Closest deep test drilled in the area is the Marshall R. Young Nellie Stem No. 1, sec. 22, 8-15W.

Near Westonla in Hancock county, Hughes is drilling a head below 8,100 feet in his important wildcat, the No. 2 Weston Lumber Company in sec. 31-8-15W, approximately five miles northwest of the two-well Ansley field discovered by Young.

The venture may go to 15,500 feet in search of deep production with reports current that the operator will try for new pay if the present well is correlated to be high in structure.

Roads are being constructed to Malatto Bayou, where Hughes' stake No. 1 is located.

The pink color scheme was carried out in the center piece on the luncheon table with an unusually lovely arrangement of carnations, daisies and gladioli, with individual corsages for each guest reaching from the centerpiece to each end of the long table. Wedding bell place cards and petit fours completed the color motif.

Those present were Mesdames Sydney Prague, the honoree's mother, Paula Jenks, Walter Gex, Lucien Gex, Walter James Phillips, Milton Phillips, C. C. McDonald, W. A. McDonald, David McDonald, Fred McDonald, James McDonald, Otis Winward, Stella Gex, H. A. Eldridge, John McDonald, Ray Smith of New York, and Miss Vicki Gex.

On Friday evening at Six Acres, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Sr., entertained at a small after-rehearsal supper for the members of the wedding party and close relatives. The T shaped table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies and gladioli.

Pine Seedlings

Now Available

It's time now to order your pine seedlings, states Area Forester Marion Parker of the State.

You can make your application at the County Agent, Soil Conservation, or the Area Forester's offices, located in the County Agricultural Building. Price of seedlings will be the same as last year. Each landowner is entitled 2,000 free seedlings plus 70¢ shipping charge. All additional seedlings will be $3.50 per thousand plus 35¢ per thousand shipping charges.

Before making application for seedlings, determine definitely where you want to plant them, how many you will need and that you have enough labor to plant them.

Now is the time to put those idle acres back in production. Total number of seedlings produced by our State Nursery last year was 47,369,480 seedlings. Hancock County lead the state in number of seedlings planted with 1,512,000. We hope we can go over this figure another year. Order now so you will be first on the list.

Trees are a growing crop. The amount of income obtained from them depends on how they are protected, managed, harvested and sold. Information about seedlings and other forest problems contact your Area Forester Marion Parker, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

LETTER

and not those of the "syndicate"? Whose side were you on then?

Since we have a new sheriff the Travel Bureaus, the Governor, and the Attorney General receive no more mail of the type they received when you were sheriff. It seems that he had no trouble eliminating those things you apparently protected—and brought disgrace to our county. We doubt that the present sheriff is going to be able to "retire" for 4 years, though, and spend his time going to the race tracks and fighting bond issues for much needed paved streets for his fellow citizens.

By the way, Mr. Egloff speak of your record as sheriff, do you have an extra copy of the December 1955 issue of FRONT PAGE DECEIVE magazine? We would like to re-print part of that story—the part referring to Hancock County while you were sheriff the last term!

We note in your ramblings that you have cast some inferences about some "big shots" who ride in big cars with dealer tags, who smoke cigars and avoid city, county and state taxes. We believe this none of this paper's business, and has nothing to do with the proposed bond issue for streets, but we will just wager you that the individual to whom you refer pays 10 times more taxes to the county, city, and state than you; that he pays 10 times more personal tax than you; that those dealer tags stand for just what they say, and those tags cost him more than both of yours; that he paid for those cars; he drives through hard, honest work, and not through politics; that the cigars he smokes smell just as fragrant to him as the race track stables do to you!

Now, if you will pardon us, we'll get back on the bond issue. You did not state whether or not you voted for or against the city sales tax which passed overwhelmingly in 1954, but when it was passed, the City Commissioners pledged part of it to hard-surfacing these streets referred to and it can't be done without the bond issue. These city officials have pledged to the public to set aside the money for that purpose. You say that if a "new group of city officials are elected," they might not use the sales tax for the payment of the bonds. It's your duty as a lifetime citizen of Bay St. Louis to see that good officials are elected who will protect those rights.

How was your street paved? The answer, as you well know, was through a bond issue—and you, or your predecessors, had an extra tax to pay. But your fellow citizen is now asking pavement at no cost to you. How can you look him in the eye and give him any reason to the contrary?

See you next week! If you want to discuss the bond issue—or your record as sheriff, it makes no difference to us!

McDonald-Butler Wedding Solemnized Sat.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald Jr.

Mrs. Evabelle Prague Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Prague, Houston, Tex., and Mr. Carl C. McDonald Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, were united in marriage at a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Main St. Methodist Church, with the Rev. A. M. Ellison Jr. officiating at the double ring rites.

Banked in palms, the altar of the church was centered with a seven branched candelabrum and flanked by two five branched candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers. Tall baskets of Marconi daisies and white gladioli were placed on either side.

Preceding the ceremony, Lane Adams sang the "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap and Mrs. J. B. Goldman, church organist, presented a program of nuptial music including the traditional wedding marches.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride selected for her wedding an original model of porcelain blue imported silk organza. Fashioned with a lowered bodice and short cap sleeves, the dress was accented with finisitions of lace medallions at the oval neckline. The skirt fell in circular fullness to patio length. She wore a tiny hat of velvet applique and wore as her only jewelry a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. A small cascade arrangement of sweetheart roses and fleur d'amour completed her attire.

Mrs. Ray Smith of New York was her sister's only attendant. Her dress of pink polished cotton featured an overskirt of pink silk organza. She wore a velvet headpiece and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mr. McDonald served as his son's best man and the ushers, all lifetime friends of the groom, were Mr. Leo Seal Jr., Mr. Gary Sutherland of Hattiesburg and Mr. Paul LaCoste of Gulfport and Ackerman.

A reception was held at Hotel Reed immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Prague, who was assisted in receiving by the bridegroom's mother, his grandmother, Mrs. W. A. McDonald, Miss Vicki Gex, great aunt of the bride, and the members of the wedding party, chose for the wedding a black and pink silk print worn with matching accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses. Mrs. C. C. McDonald wore a seafoam green tissue tulle complemented with a purple orchid at the shoulder; Mrs. W. A. McDonald a grey lace model with a corsage of pink carnations; and Miss Gex, a grey gown accented by a corsage of white carnations. The receiving line stood against a background of palms in the sunroom of the hotel.

Arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, Marconi daisies and fern were used throughout the dining room and sunroom. The bride's table, which was covered with an heirloom cloth of handmade white lace, was centered with a four tiered wedding cake, decorated at the top with wedding bells, lilies of the valley, and white roses standing on three pedestals. The cake was surrounded with tiny swans filled with fleur d'amour and lilies of the valley interspread with fern.

Later in the evening, the couple left on a wedding trip to Florida. The bride chose for traveling a beige linen sheath worn with a matching duster of eyelet embroidery, a small cloche hat of white and a corsage of sweetheart roses worn at her shoulder. Upon their return they will be at home at 507 N. Second Street.

Out of town guests here for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kurtz, Houston, Texas; Mrs. Otis Winnard, Detroit, Michigan; Dr. and Mrs. Ray Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Roy, Miss Yvonne Claiborne, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Coward, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gerdan, Mrs. Lorena Simpson, Miss Janice Thrifley, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goldman, all of New Orleans; Mrs. Elizabeth Yawn, Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Craig, Gulfport; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kennedy III, Biloxi; and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thatcher and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jeffcoat, Pass-Christman.

A reunion will be held by the crewmen of the USS Helena CL 50, August 4, 5, 6 at the Hotel Jefferson in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mrs. Edward McGuire of So. Manchester, Conn., will arrive Saturday to visit the Hubert Ratenburgs in Waveland.

THIS COULD HAVE BEEN YOU

They asked me did I see the child? Yes, I saw him. And he's all I've been seeing since. I saw him. But it was too late to stop.

I was the last to see him alive. And the first to see his lifeless body limply sprawled on the pavement—a few inches from the bumper of my car.

Yes, I am the man they now call "death car driver." I own the car whose picture you saw in the daily press. And yet, a thousand times I wish I were the victim rather than the man who killed him.

For he died only once, but I a thousand deaths since then.

I saw him running out between two cars. He looked away. But yet his childish steps led into my path. I hooked the horn. I kicked into the brake. I heard tires squeal. And then the thud.

I saw his little body hurt through the air and fall down flat just as my stopping wheel almost touched him once more.

I walked ahead and bent over his crumpled form. "Call an ambulance," I shouted. "Quick." I saw the gathering crowd. They all looked at the child. And then at me.

Then came police and then the doctor. He looked first at the bloody face and form, then looked away and slowly shook his head. And then I saw the anguished features of a man—the father—and heard the desperate screams of a bereaved mother—how can I forget.

And when the scene had cleared and I had filed reports at headquarters and the police had cleared me, I stood alone and suddenly knew what I had really done.

"Could happen to any of us," a voice behind me said. I felt the sympathetic touch of a policeman's hand. "You were not speeding, nor violating any law. We preferred no charges nor did any witness charge a fault by you. The child was unattended, roaming streets alone and you did nothing that was dangerous or wrong."

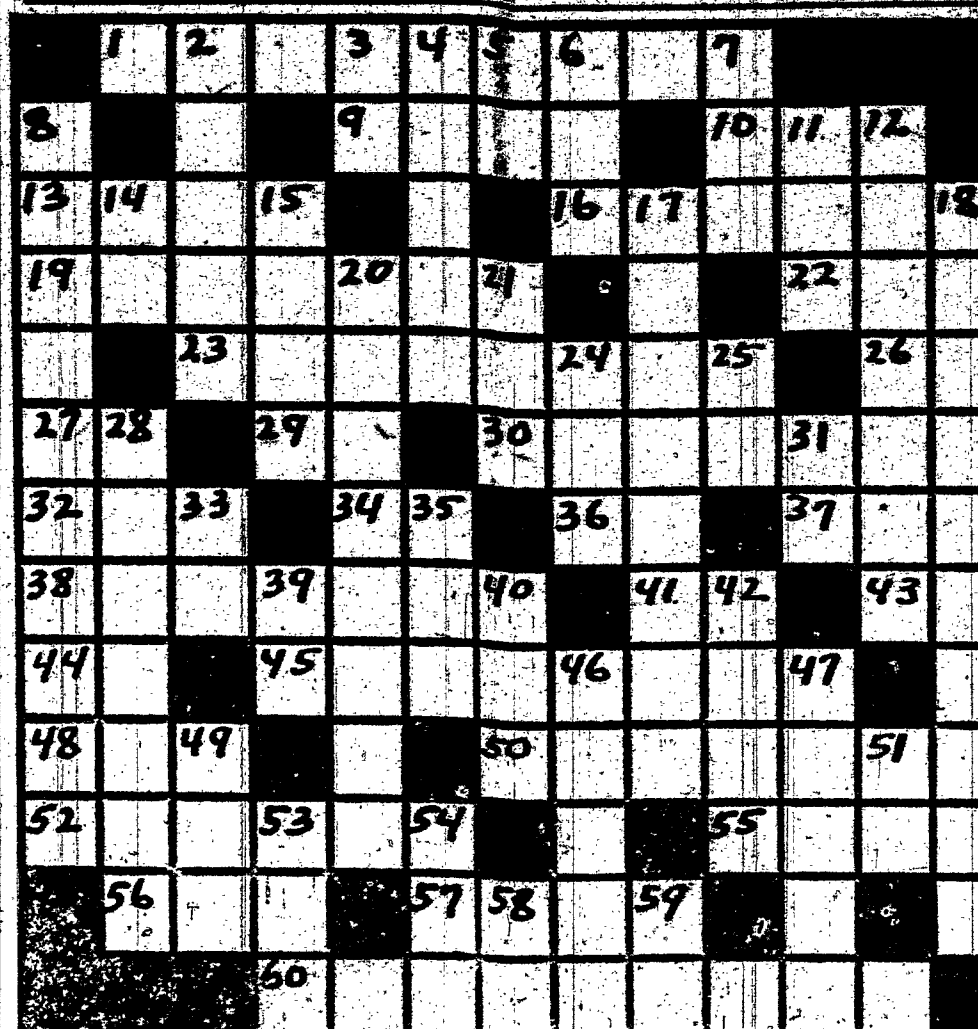

I carry insurance sure. But who can replace a life? Should I visit the parents. See the child laid out? Or coldly disregard the death, the bitter grief? Will the father, mother hate me?

A sense of moral guilt hangs over me. It punishes the driver hard and makes him all afraid, to face the parents or the lifeless child or anyone.

Remorse alone cannot clear my conscience. And there I even doubt my friends will see my way. I wasn't careless, the policeman said. I was within the law. But yet, my conscience lives with me and I with it. And, thinking that, perhaps, the slightest bit of more attention on my part could have averted this will haunt my thoughts for every hour I shall live. And no one can deliver me of this.

This is a true story as told to Buffalo Courier-Express Staff Reporter Walter Froehlich by a man whose car had recently killed a child. Only the names and places have been deleted.—Ed.

SOUTHERN SAMPLERS

BY CHRISTOPHER BELL

This week marks the fifty-eighth anniversary of the surrender of Santiago to American forces during the Spanish-American War.

Santiago was the scene of many battles between the rebellious Cubans and their Spanish masters before the United States entered the war.

The decision of President McKinley to go to war in order to liberate Cuba from the domination of Spain met with popular support across the country. For American newspapers had carried for many years accounts of the Spaniards' cruel and unjust treatment of the Cubans. American merchants approved of the war because of the increased trade, and then too, the American military saw the opportunity to establish the United States as a world power.

Shortly after the declaration

First Of Summer

ARC Parties Is

Held At Keesler

First of a series of summer entertainments planned by the Hancock County Red Cross Chapter for patients of Keesler Air Force Base Hospital was given by a group of local belles at the Red Cross hospital recreation rooms on July 10.

In addition to the wonderful homemade cookies whipped up by the girls, the hit of the evening was the variety program of popular music presented by several members of the group.

The boys thought they were "hearing double" when the first number was announced, a trio composed of Sylvia J. Apple, Carol Johnson and Carol Johnston. These talented and attractive songsters were called back for encore after encore for their distinct-was not looking for a battle at this time.

On May 19, 1898 he sailed into Santiago harbor on the southern shore of Cuba.

Since the American army under General Shafter was advancing across Cuba toward Santiago, Admiral Cervera decided to move his fleet out of the harbor. In the meantime, however, American naval vessels under command of Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley had blockaded the port.

All remained quiet for several weeks, until Sunday morning, July 3, 1898, when Admiral Cervera, seeing no other alternative, sailed out of Santiago to make his play against the American navy.

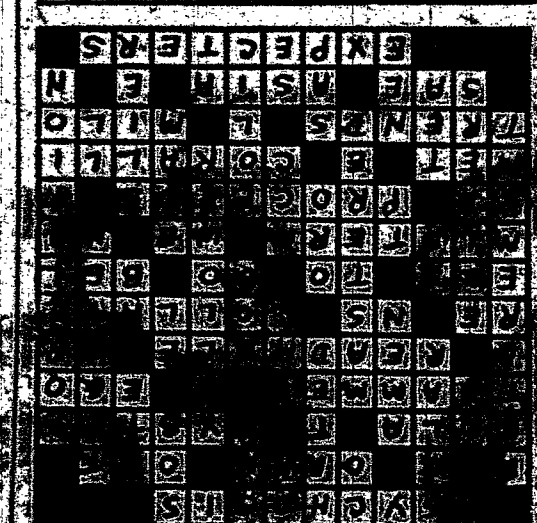

The American navy, which already outnumbered the Spaniards two-to-one, was made even more formidable before the battle by the battleship Oregon, which made a 16,000-mile trip around Cape Horn to join Admiral Sampson.

The encounter that followed resulted in the complete destruction of the Spanish fleet outside Santiago. At final count the Spaniards had 353 killed to only one American lost.

This battle practically ended the war as Commodore Dewey had defeated the Spaniards at Manila Bay several months earlier.

On July 17, 1898 the American flag was raised over the Governor's palace at Santiago. On July 25 Major General Nelson A. Miles took Puerto Rico after a few small encounters.

And on August 12, 1898 the Armistice was signed, ending forever Spain's power in the Pacific and Caribbean.

tion rendition of swing music.

With Doodie Scaffidi at the piano, Catherine Matherne, Jean Fitzpatrick and Sigrid Boumay put the group in a dreamy mood by their lovely soprano solos of the "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" variety.

Finally everybody got into the act around the piano in a songfest, accompanied, alternately by Doodie and Sylvia.

After the program an evening of games was enjoyed over refreshments.

Others in the group of hostesses were Misses Frances Compretta, Domenica Benigno, Marsha Blaize, Deanna Lenard, Judy Senae, Jan Mitchell, Sister Sullivan, Rusty Breath, Julie Blanchard and Kinta Kergosien. Chaperones were Mrs. Charles Banderet and Mrs. W. L. Argus and Miss Sarah Thomas, RC recreation director.

BAPTISTS BELIEVE...

JESUS... "coming up out of the water."

—MARK 1:10

Stepping down into the water of the Jordan River, Jesus presented himself to John the Baptist for baptism. Jesus' purpose was different from that of others who were coming. They came for baptism to show they had repented of their sins but Jesus had no sin from which to turn. He was not a sinner, but his life's purpose was to live and die for sinners. Therefore, he took his place among them. In being laid beneath the water, he prophesied of his burial a few years later in the grave. In "coming up out of the water," he foretold his resurrection from death to life.

Those who accept Jesus Christ as the Son of God and who trust him as their Saviour are known as "Christians." They should identify themselves as such by following his example in being baptized. They declare by being immersed in water that they believe that he died for them. Baptism is also a testimony of their new way of life in which they will follow Christ. The Bible says, "We are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life" (Romans 6:4). Furthermore, as these baptized Christians come up out of the water, they show their assurance of having a continuing life after they die. In this new life, they will be forever with their Lord.

This is what baptism means to Baptists. It is a symbol and its very form is significant. Only by entering into the water, by being lowered beneath it, and by being raised up from it can a person demonstrate that central fact of Christianity for which baptism stands. This central principle is that Christ died on an executioner's cross for sinners, was buried in a tomb, and rose triumphantly from the grave to be seen again on earth.

When a church baptizes, it obeys the last command of Jesus. He said, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost" (Matthew 28:19). After giving this command, Jesus promised the blessing of his spiritual presence until the end of the world. This means that every Christian should be a baptized believer, at work in a church, learning more about Christ and guiding others to him.

Baptists believe that baptism is a symbol of salvation and not an aid to it. They believe in Christ alone for salvation. With this conviction they are winning more souls every year.

Fayard-Farve Wedding Vows Are Exchanged Here Sunday

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the scene Sunday afternoon at two o'clock of the wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Farve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Farve to Mr. Robert Julian Fayard, son of Mrs. H. T. Fayard and the late Mr. Fayard, all of Bay St. Louis. The Reverend Father John Robinson officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The church was ornamented for the occasion with Majestic dahises and white gladiolas. Six arrangements banked the altar with greenery and lighted cathedral tapers. White satin bows marked the pews for the family.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in an exquisite original bridal gown by Ina of white imported Chantilly lace and tulle worn over heavy white taffeta and tulle. The low scalloped neckline was outlined in seed pearls and iridescent sequins made with tiny cap sleeves. The gown featured a pointed waistline and was fastened down the back with tiny lace covered buttons. The front was made with an apron effect outlined with accordion pleated tulle ruffles and the back skirt fell into a graceful Cathedral train of alternating tulle and lace ruffles. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a pearl tiara and she carried a cascade arrangement of white philanopsis orchids and lilies of the valley centered with a single white orchid.

The maid of honor was Miss Suzanne Holcombe, Mobile; the matron of honor, Mrs. Nelius C. Rhodes, Bay St. Louis; and the bridesmaids were Miss Carol Ann Richardson, Marrero, La., a cousin of the bride; Misses Barbara Flink, Honoring Dambornio, Bay St. Louis, and Miss Rita Haas, Kiln.

They wore dresses of shell pink eyelet embroidered organza over pink taffeta made ballet length. The dresses had necklines and cap sleeves. The skirts were very full and made of three deep ruffled tiers. Deeper pink satin cummerbunds encircled their waists, and their half hats and shoes were of matching pink satin. They carried bouquets of pink feathered carnations combined with rubrum lilies tied with rose satin ribbon.

Little Miss Carol Fayard, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of the same material as the bridesmaids and carried a little pink basket of carnations petals.

Master Dougie Tourne, Hobbs New Mexico, a nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a white satin pillow with white satin streamers tied in love knots with pink blossoms. He was attired in a summer tuxedo.

Mr. T. J. Morel, Jr., Bay St. Louis, served as best man. The groomsmen were Messrs. Pedro Monti, Bay St. Louis, Jeffrey Farve, Jackson, C. J. Fayard, Baton Rouge. The ushers were Roger Reinke and E. B. Richardson, Jr., Bay St. Louis, and Bernard Farr, Baton Rouge La. All the men in the wedding party wore summer tuxedos.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the North Beach home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Farve selected an ashen of roses lace afternoon dress made on simple lines and worn with Navy accessories and wore a corsage of white butterfly orchids. She was assisted in receiving by the groom's mother whose gown was of French bleu lace worn with a small blue hat and an orchid corsage. Mrs. E. B. Richardson, Sr., maternal grandmother of the bride who also wore blue lace and a corsage of fleur d'amour and Mrs. M. B. Bummara, Jackson, Heights, N. Y., the bride's aunt, who chose a white polished cotton dress with pink print and a white carnation corsage. The receiving line stood before the fireplace which was banked with greenery and held an arrangement of white gladiolas and dahises. Similar arrangements were used throughout other rooms.

The bride's table which was covered with a white cutwork cloth held the four-tiered wedding cake. The cake, topped with spun sugar wedding bells and love birds and a miniature bride and groom, was surrounded by daisy blooms and greenery.

The couple left on a motor trip to New Mexico later in the afternoon. For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue silk cotton with matching duster and accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. Upon their return they will be at home at 300 North Beach.

Mrs. Fayard is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and is employed at the Mississippi Power Company. Mr. Fayard, a graduate of St. Stanislaus, is local representative of the Orkin Company.
